The vineyard

Grapes used for Maruxa Mencía comes from suppliers who cultivate small plots segregated by soils and areas, from the town of Éntoma, in the Val do Galir and Val do Sil.

We work hand by hand with our suppliers so that we harvest on the right moment and avoid over maturation.

Val do Galir vineyards are at 350m, southern exposure with slate soil.

The rest of the plots are located on the northern slopes on the Sil river (600m to 800m).

Winemaking

Manual harvest in 15 kg cases. Cold maceration of the grapes in scale fridges and of the must 48 hours before alcoholic fermentation. Destemmed but not crushed in order to preserve the primary aromas.

Fermentation in small stainless steel tanks and open plastic tubs. No barrel aging, pure Mencía.

Harvest description

The 2020 harvest has been one of the earliest in recent years, it took place the second week of September. Cold and rainy winter and a summer with warm temperatures resulted in the early ripening of healthy, balanced grapes which were fresh and very aromatic.

More generous in yields than 2019 due to the fact that we did not suffer any inclement weather during the summer

Tasting notes

Brilliant clean red cherry color.

Explosion of aromas on the nose, intense fresh red fruit flavors, mineral and earthy.

In the mouth the wine is broad and fresh with a good acidity.

Recommended service temperature 15°C.
